NTS Leader To Speak Tomorrow

The little-known Russian underground movement, NTS, will be the subject of a book review tomorrow by the Arlington Ladies' Book Review and Music Club.

The event will be held at the Evans Farm Inn in McLean.

Mr. Constantin Boldyreff, a founder of the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists (NTS) in 1930, will review Gordon Young's "House of Secrets." This is a book dealing with the underground.

Mr. Boldyreff was born in St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, and was a member of the Khabarovsk Cade Corp in Siberia at the time of the Russian Revolution.

He then joined the White Russian armies as a volunteer and spent three years in the underground during World War II.
